

Gotta let it go

Just when you have the friends you always wished to have, you gotta let it go
When you finally met your one big love, you gotta let it go
When you found yourself, your true real self, you gotta let it go
When finally you left your old habits behind, you gotta let it go
When you found the trick, you're finally in control, you gotta let it go
When finally you know you just gotta let it go, you gotta let that go

Refrain

Nothing will stay the same nothing remains, I must lose you lose you again and again
Nothing's for good oh I hate this mere Truth, yet I love it somehow but I don't want it anyhow
No I do not want to bow oh I don't want the Truth but do tell me anyhow (I'll listen) when you come by
For I cannot stand to live – live in a Lie live in a Lie

When finally your dream became reality, you gotta let it go
When finally you see all is just a dream, you gotta let it go
When you're feeling good, you know this will never go, you gotta let it go
When you found the truth, you've got the overview, you gotta let it go
When finally you accept your failure as a fact, you gotta let it go
When finally you relax in the dirt, the dirt of sex, you gotta let it go

Refrain

Nothing will stay the same nothing remains I will lose you will lose you again and again
Nothing's for good oh I hate this mere Truth yet I love it somehow but I don't want it anyhow
No I do not want to bow oh I don't want the Truth but do tell me anyhow (I'll listen) when you come by
For I cannot stand to live – live in a Lie live in a Lie

When finally you found your place your home, you gotta let it go
When finally you hate the whole fucking show, you gotta let it go
When finally you're free, no responsibility, you gotta let it go
When finally you feel no pain just mystery, you gotta let it go
When finally you know how to live how to flow, you gotta let it go
When finally you relax in the fact you'll always be stressed, you gotta let it go

Just when you're sure you will always be lonely, you gotta let it go
But when there's some hope again out of the blue, you gotta let it go
You're sure you can't sink deeper still than this low, you gotta let it go

Justin Heart – Gotta let it go

When only Dark is left, you head for the end, you gotta let it go
Nothing will stay the same nothing remains, I will lose you lose you again and again
Nothing's for good oh I hate this mere truth yet I love it somehow but I don't want it anyhow

When finally you accept there's nothing that can be kept, you gotta let it go
When finally you feel loved, you are who you are, you gotta let it go
Just when you start loving life, all ups and downs, you gotta let it go
When you wrote a song and it's way way too long, you gotta let some go go
But yet can't – let it go

When finally you're dead, free from the chains, you gotta let it go
When finally you found what can never go, you gotta let me know
When finally you found your Heart...
